

Keisha Briggs-Graham

Keisha Briggs-Graham is honored to be nominated for Parliamentarian.

Keisha's focus and passions in life are her family and being of service to her community. One of her biggest goals is to show her son and nieces that acting on opportunities can lead to greater ones. Throughout her personal and professional journey, she has empowered, educated, and elevated herself and those around her through mentoring and volunteering.

Keisha currently holds the position of Management Analyst for LA County DPSS Bureau of Human Resources. She received a B.S. in Sociology from CSUDH in 2013. She then went on to obtain a MPA in Public Sector Management and Leadership from CSUN in 2015.

Keisha is no stranger to hard work, before being employed by DPSS in 2013 she received assistance from the department. She moved on to become an Eligibility Supervisor in 2017. During this time, she served as a co-chair for the departments "Together Everyone Achieves More" (TEAM) Committee. Her duties included facilitating meetings, developing agendas, maintaining order by ensuring TEAM rules were abided by, and being the liaison between administration and departmental entities.

In 2019 Keisha promoted to Staff Development Specialist with LA County DPSS. While in this position she educated, empowered, and connected with hundreds of amazing new hires and promotees throughout the department.

Keisha's dedication to the betterment of her community and department aligns with LACAAEA's vision. She is grateful for this opportunity and hopes to expand her services with LACAAEA by becoming their next Parliamentarian.
